

Six Ways Health Information Professionals Can Get Involved in Advocacy & Public Policy

READ

- Sign up for AHIMA's advocacy alerts
- Follow the Advocacy & Policy community on ACCESS
- Follow AHIMA's "Under the Dome column"

1

LEARN

- Listen to AHIMA's HI Pitch podcast
- Attend AHIMA's advocacy and public policy webinars

2

WRITE

- Contact your Members of Congress about issues that matter to the HI profession when alerted by AHIMA
- If you're a delegate, offer feedback on AHIMA's public policy statements

3

VOLUNTEER

- Volunteer for the Advocacy & Policy Council
- Watch AHIMA's weekly eAlert for periodic, short-term opportunities to provide expertise

4

SHARE

- Share AHIMA's action alerts with friends and family
- Follow and share content from AHIMA on social media

5

SPEAK

- Meet with your Members of Congress back home or at AHIMA's Advocacy Summit in Washington, DC
- Speak up about critical issues on AHIMA's Advocacy Agenda within your organization.

6

Ready to be a force for change?

Visit www.ahima.org/advocacy to get started.